

The Kelley School of Business at Indiana University, Bloomington is accepting applications for full-time Lecturer (rank open) positions to teach Kelley Compass Professional Skills (career/professional development) courses in the Communication, Professional, and Computer Skills area, effective fall 2022. These are 10-month appointments with an 18-credit-hour teaching assignment.

Candidates must have a Master's Degree (Ph.D. preferred) in Organizational Development/Studies, Psychology (ie. Industrial-Organizational, Counseling, Positive, etc.), Career Development/Counseling areas, or a related field. The ideal candidate will have experience teaching undergraduate business students. Knowledge of career development is desirable. Candidates with experience in corporate recruiting, or corporate training and development are encouraged to apply. Excellent verbal and written communication skills, commitment to university service and professional development, and working as a member of a collaborative faculty team are required.

We encourage applications from excellent candidates, particularly those who are eager to help us advance the School's diversity, equity, inclusion, and belonging initiatives and programs.

Required application documents include: curriculum vitae (CV), letter of application (cover letter), diversity statement. Optional documents include: evidence of teaching ability and statement of teaching philosophy.

To ensure consideration, applications should be received by January 16, 2022. The search will remain open until the position is filled. Interested applicants should review position requirements and apply at <https://indiana.peopleadmin.com/postings/12085>. Candidates should direct any questions to Dr. Nancy Evans, Director of Professional Skills, Kelley School of Business, 1309 E. Tenth Street, Bloomington, IN 47405, (812) 856-9702.

Indiana University is an equal employment and affirmative action employer and a provider of ADA services. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment based on individual qualifications. Indiana University prohibits discrimination based on age, ethnicity, color, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, genetic information, marital status, national origin, disability status or protected veteran status.