- Monitors student progress toward degree, sharing information about learning opportunities and resources, as well as providing support for those in academic difficulty.
- Applies an extensive knowledge of curricular options, requirements, and engagement opportunities to identify, compare, and contrast viable degree programs that match a student’s interests and goals.
- Applies organizational and student development theory to guide students with diverse needs, backgrounds, and talents to make informed decisions.
- Evaluates students' curricular plans, counsels students regarding communication and interpersonal skills related to academic success and other academic activities.
- Coaches students in a culturally informed manner through the major and career decision-making process by developing an individualized, action-oriented plan to assist students in overcoming barriers as they move toward degree progress and timely graduation.
- Uses APLUS, PeopleSoft, APAS, and other software information systems to maintain accurate information about students in order to communicate throughout the campus system retention and graduation progress.
- Explains the process for requesting exceptions to University and College policies through the academic policy petition process.
- Counsels students to help them identify their strengths, academic and career interests, and explore available areas.
- Provides direct service to students to facilitate major declaration and career exploration.
- Assesses and evaluates each student’s diverse needs and backgrounds by utilizing culturally appropriate, adaptive advising strategies, and connects them to campus resources.
● Creates a network of relationships with students, faculty, and campus staff to effectively deliver advising and support services to students, and serves as a liaison to other units; e.g. faculty advisor/mentor training, faculty advisor assignments, etc.

● Directs students to college/university support resources in moments of crisis, including financial, social, personal, and academic.

● Contributes to program development and evaluation metrics. Provides input on the development of advising systems and processes.

● Contributes to identifying retention strategies and assessment of advising needs for students of color and other groups as required (e.g., disability, sexual orientation, veteran, first generation).

Programs and Initiatives: 15%

● Contributes to collegiate programs such as new student orientation, first-year experience/orientation classes, second-year experience and commencement.

● Develops and shares materials and resources to better advise a diverse population of students and remains current on inclusive advising strategies.

● Works with major coordinators in assigned majors on Undergraduate Program Policy and Review Committee issues, including curriculum development, and course and program enhancements.

● Participates in projects related to the continuous improvement of service in academic advising and student services (assist in review of how work flows and make recommendations for improvement).

● Works with the CFANS Admissions team with a focus on increasing the yield of targeted and diverse student populations.

● Participates in relevant CFANS prospective student events including the Dean’s Welcome and Sneak Preview events.

● Works on projects as assigned by the Director of Student Services and/or Associate Dean for Academic Programs and Faculty Affairs.

Service and Engagement in the field of Academic Advising: 10%

● Serves on collegiate and university-level committees as requested by the Associate Dean for Academic Programs and Faculty Affairs; e.g. Student Scholastic Standing Committee, Scholarship Committee, Honors and Awards Committee, Committee on Diversity and Inclusion, etc.

● Participates in professional development activities at the collegiate, University and the broader community including attending and/or presenting at conferences, membership in professional associations, etc.; e.g. Academic Advising Network, First-Year Experience Program, NACADA.
Nature of Appointment:

12-month, 100% time, annually renewable based on performance, organizational needs, and availability of funds. Expected salary range of $41,500-$43,000.

This position reports to the Senior Academic Advisor/Coordinator of Academic Advising.

About the Department

The College of Food, Agricultural and Natural Resource Sciences (CFANS) offers thirteen majors, three pre-major / pre-professional programs and 23 minors for undergraduate students. Undergraduate enrollment in the college is about 2000 students. CFANS students are well-prepared for a diverse, multicultural workforce through the college's emphasis on experiential interdisciplinary and intercultural learning, internships and global perspectives.

CFANS Student Services office supports the needs of students from matriculation to graduation. Excellent inclusive academic advising is at the core of the support services offered to students in CFANS and is designed to encourage and support students to be active and accountable in the creation and achievement of their academic, career and personal goals.
